BEN. HARRISON

THE REPUBLICAN NOMINEE FOR PRESIDENT.

BLAINE ASKS HIS FRIENDS TO RESPECT HIS LETTERS,

AND A BREAK IS MADE FOR THE INDIANA SENATOR.

The Convention Adjourns Saturday Afternoon Until Monday Without Doing Any Business—The Telegrams as Received From Blaine—Allison's Name Withdrawn at the End of the Seventh Ballot—The Last Ballot in Full—Harrison's Total Vote 544—Comments on the Nominee.

BEN. HARRISON.

SATURDAY'S AFTERNOON SESSION.
CHICAGO, June 25.—At 4:08 Saturday afternoon, Mr. Estee, the chairman, called the convention to order and stated that the convention was ready to proceed with the business.

It was immediately moved by Mr. King, of Maryland, that the convention adjourn without ballot until 11 o'clock Monday. The secretary called the roll of states, and the motion was carried by a vote of 496 to 322.

MONDAY'S SESSION.

CHICAGO, June 25.—The throng outside the auditorium was not as dense this morning as was the case at every session of the convention last week. This is explained by the fact that nearly all the political clubs and legions and the great mass of general visitors disappointed by the protracted length of the convention, and despairing of having an opportunity soon to assist in the ratification jubilee of the successful nominee, had turned their faces homeward en masse after the adjournment of Saturday afternoon.

What under other circumstances would be regarded as an imposing crowd besieged the doors of the building from an early hour, and from the time that the gatekeepers began their duties at 9:30 there was a continuous pour to the upper parts of the house.

An hour later very few of the 9,000 seats allotted to the outside public were empty. The delegates, too, on the whole were remarkably early in arriving. Thirty of the New Yorkers, nearly all of the Virginians and many southern, Minnesota, Michigan and Ohio contingents were in their seats at 10:30 o'clock, although the time for reassembling was half an hour later.

Very little enthusiasm was manifested and the leading lights of the gathering strolled in one after another without being accorded a single demonstration. Inside, as well as outside the atmosphere was close and sultry, and there were indications of a thunderstorm, a fact which caused an enthusiastic Blaine man to suggest that the elements were preparing to give the successful candidate a baptism of thunder and lightning.

Mr. Manley, of Maine, remarked to a United Press reporter this morning that Blaine would accept only a unanimous nomination, which at present seemed impossible and that he hoped there would be no more voting for Blaine unless he were formally put in nomination.

Chairman Estee said as he passed the United Press stand: "Boys, we are going to make a president for you to-day sure."

Mr. Boutelle, of Maine, then took the platform and proceeded to talk about Mr. Blaine's attitude toward the convention. He said that without attempting to give any construction to the language employed he will read some dispatches from Mr. Blaine, as follows:

"EDINBURGH, June 24.
"To Boutelle and Manley:
"Earnestly request all friends to respect my Paris letter."

"EDINBURGH, June 24.
"To Boutelle and Manley, Maine Delegation, Chicago:
"I think I have a right to ask my friends to respect my wishes and refrain from voting for me. Please make this and former dispatch public promptly."

"J. G. BLAINE."
At 11 o'clock Chairman Estee, accompanied by Rev. Dr. Edwards, editor of the Northwestern Christian Advocate, who was to open the sixth day of the convention with prayer, made their appearance. Not a dozen delegates were absent when the chair, at 11:05, brought down his gavel upon the desk and announced that the convention would come to order.

Mr. Houston, of Virginia, offered a resolution that no vote should be counted which was cast for any one who had not been regularly placed in nomination. The resolution was declared to be out of order.

The convention then proceeded to call the roll of states for the sixth ballot. It was completed at 1:55, and resulted as follows: Alger 137, Allison 78, Gresham 91, Harrison 231, Sherman 244, Foraker 1, Blaine 40, Fred. Grant 1, McKinley 12.

The seventh ballot was completed at 12:30, and resulted as follows: Alger 130, Allison 96, Blaine 15, Foraker 1, Gresham 91, Harrison 278, Lincoln 2, McKinley 16, Sherman 281, Haymond 1.

At the conclusion of the seventh ballot Mr. Henderson, of Iowa, rose and said: "I rise to thank the friends in this convention who have shown their confidence in the character and fitness of William B. Allison, for the presidency, and here with the authority of that gentleman I withdraw his name for the further consideration of the convention." [Applause.]

The eighth ballot resulted as follows:

Alabama—Harrison 3, Sherman 5, Alger 10, Blaine 2.
Arkansas—Alger 14.
California—Blaine 1, Harrison 15.
Colorado—Harrison 6.
Connecticut—Harrison 14.

District of Columbia—Harrison 2.

Montana—Harrison 2.

Wyoming Territory—Harrison 2.

The eighth and last ballot for president was completed at 1:13, and resulted as follows: Harrison 544, Alger 100, Sherman 118, Blaine 5, McKinley 4, Gresham 59.

The nomination of Harrison was received with considerable enthusiasm. Delegates rose en masse, and the cheering was loud and long. The band also played patriotic airs.

The roll call demonstrated the accuracy of the vote as already given, and Governor Foraker moved that the convention make Harrison's nomination unanimous. He said that the delegation from Ohio, who were all Sherman men, would go away from this convention all Harrison men. They could do so, he said, with perfect consistency, because they all knew that Harrison was born in Ohio. [Great applause.]

Mr. Horr, of Michigan, said he came here hoping that one of Michigan's sons would be chosen as the standard bearer of the Republican party. But they had not succeeded in their desire, and now if it were asked who the Michigan delegation would stand by Harrison he would reply by pointing out the way in which they had stood by Alger. He accepted the result and he hoped that all the delegations would return to their homes believing that the nomination which had been made had been indicated by Providence from the start. They had come here, he said, to place a soldier at the head of the ticket, and in that they had succeeded.

Senator Farwell promised that Illinois would give her electoral vote to Harrison and he also seconded the motion of Governor Foraker to make Harrison's nomination unanimous.

Mr. Depew said that as the only presidential candidate in the convention he also seconded the motion. He knew when he came here that Ohio would carry off the honors, because that state always gained the day. The delegates would go away without heartburnings and full of enthusiasm.

Gen. Hastings said he had been instructed by the Pennsylvania delegation to congratulate the convention on the selection it had made. Pennsylvania had a hundred thousand majority for any Republican candidate and Harrison would get it all.

Gen. Henderson, of Iowa, said he was full of sorrow, not because the man of his choice had been beaten, but because the convention had nominated a man whom the Democratic party couldn't utter one truthful word. No candidate could have been found who could have claimed a warmer place in the hearts of the American people. No words of calumny could be uttered against Gen. Harrison's character, and what would the quill drivers of the Democratic party do? As Iowa had promptly withdrawn its candidate, so with equal promptness it responded to the call of the convention when the tide turned in the direction of the candidate who had been so enthusiastically named.

Mr. Boutelle, of Maine, said that his delegation had been placed in a delicate and embarrassing position. They came impressed with the feeling that there might be attributed to the vote of Maine a significance apart from its numerical strength, and they had endeavored to avoid this. How well they had done this the convention was the best judge. He pledged the hearty support of the east to the nominee, one that would call back the refrain when another Harrison was in the field: "Have you heard the news from Maine?" In the forefront of the battle the white plume would be found gleaming as it always had been. [Great applause.]

Creed Haymond, of California, who was called out, said that his heart was overflowing with happiness. The convention had solved the question as to whether a soldier or a statesman should lead the party, and it had solved the problem by selecting one who combined both the soldier and the statesman. There would not be much use of talking in this campaign. The people had already started it and they were loaded for bear.

Several other prominent Republicans followed, speaking in glowing terms of the candidate, and at the closing of the speaking Mr. Bradley, of Kentucky, said he went down in defeat under the banner of that gallant soldier from Michigan, but he cordially seconded the nomination of Gen. Harrison and said that he promised them that Kentucky would again go to the aid of Indiana. In the name of Lincoln and Clay, whose names Kentucky is proud to honor, he seconded the nomination.

There were calls for McKinley, but he did not respond. The nomination was then made unanimous, and Harrison was formally declared the nominee of the convention.

The call of the roll of states was ordered for the presentation of the names of candidates for vice president.

Hon. R. W. Thompson, of Indiana, moved a recess until 5 p. m., but it was not regularly seconded, and after a brief delay the roll call began with Mr. Hastings, of Pennsylvania, in the chair.

Mr. Denny, of Kentucky, placed W. O. Bradley, of that state, in nomination.

The nomination of Bradley was seconded by Kansas, Albert Griffin spoke for that delegation and said that but for the suppression of the southern vote four years ago Blaine would be in the White House to-day instead of in Scotland. The nomination was also seconded by Warner, of Alabama; Houk, of Tennessee; Locke, of Georgia, and Atkinson, of Michigan.

Mr. Sewell, of New Jersey, presented the name of William Walter Rheips, of New Jersey.

Senator Hisecock said further proceedings ought to be taken with deliberation, and urged a recess until 5 p. m. An amendment to make it 7 o'clock was lost. Another amendment to make it 6 o'clock was carried, at 3:08 the recess was taken.

Benjamin Harrison was born on August 30, 1833, in Hamilton county, Ohio. Having graduated at the Oxford, O., University, he studied law in Cincinnati, and in 1854 he settled on Indianapolis as his future home and has been one of its most prominent lawyers since. He was elected in 1860 as reporter of the supreme court of Indiana, but enlisted immediately after President Lincoln's first call for volunteers. He received his commission as second lieutenant and organized Company A of the Seventieth Indiana volunteers infantry. After the successful organization of the regiment he was commissioned colonel, served five years in the army, and was mustered out in June, 1865.

Having earned the title of brigadier general while in the field, upon his return to Indianapolis he resumed the duties of court reporter until 1869. He was the Republican candidate for governor of Indiana in 1876, but was defeated. In 1879 he was appointed on the Mississippi river committee. He took his seat in the United States on March 4, 1881, succeeding Joseph E. McDonald, and was defeated for second term in the senate by David Turpie, Democrat, in a very close and exciting contest.

CLIMBED TO HIS DEATH.

A Foolhardy Buffalo Man Attempts to Scale a Church Spire and is Killed.

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 25.—People in the vicinity of Washington market Sunday afternoon saw a tragedy that they will not soon forget. The chimneys in St. Michael's Roman Catholic church had just ceased ringing when some of the folks in Washington street saw a man climbing the tall steeple of the church. The crowd increased as the man slowly pulled himself toward the top by means of the lightning rod. It seemed every moment to the spectators as if the climber would fall, but he went hand over hand to the apex. When he reached the foot of the cross the lightning rod gave way. The man made a futile effort to throw his arms about the spire, but it was too large, and then he fell headlong to the roof of the body of the church, a distance of one hundred feet. His neck was broken and his brains dashed out.

Policeman McGuire, who saw the fall, called Fire Truck No. 3 and the patrol wagon. The firemen took down the body, and the policemen conveyed it to headquarters.

The victim of the tragedy was Charles Sullivan, a telegraph lineman, who lived near the church. He had been drinking some during the day, and made a bet with some acquaintances, first as to the height of the spire, and second, as to his ability to climb it safely. When Sullivan went to the tower to climb it the bellmen refused to let him pass, but afterward he slipped by them, and the first they knew of the fatal climb was when they saw the bleeding body on the church roof after the fall. Sullivan's betting friends got away as soon as possible to avoid arrest.

DROWNED WHILE YACHTING.

A Rush to the Side of the Little Craft Causes It to Overturn—Six Lives Lost.

NEWARK, N. J., June 25.—Sixteen young men and women hired the steam yacht Olivette Saturday evening to take a moonlight excursion on the water. It being flood tide, the jetty at the mouth of the bay was covered with water. The pilot, Dayer, had scarcely got his bearings when he heard a sharp grating sound, and realizing that he was on the jetty, stopped the engine. Several of the male passengers jumped over on the jetty, and in doing so the boat lurched and slid off into deep water.

The girls then made a rush for the side of the boat. This caused her to keel over suddenly, and in a second she turned bottom side up. The air was immediately filled with screams from her help from persons struggling for their lives in the water. The cries were heard at Greenville and other points on the bay, and rescuers soon went to the scene of the accident. But when the boats arrived it was found that six of the party had been swept away and drowned.

The names of the lost were: Louis Groff, Gussie Lutz, Lizzie Zellul, Minnie Burger, Gussie Weber and Annie Fricke. Fred Christopher, one of the rescued, was engaged to be married to Annie Fricke, who was drowned.

Attempt to Burn a Family to Death.

WHEELING, W. Va., June 25.—What now looks very much like an attempt at wholesale murder occurred here at 1 o'clock this morning, when Mrs. George Hatzelow and her three children narrowly escaped being burned to death. Three families occupy the house. The inmates other than Mrs. Hatzelow and her children were aroused by the smell of smoke, and found a hot fire raging in the bedroom of the Hatzelows while the mother and her children were still in bed. The bedclothes were ablaze. The mother and children were dragged out, and appeared to be under the influence of some drug. Mrs. Hatzelow, her fifteen-year-old daughter and her baby were terribly burned, and may die. Her son escaped with slight injuries. Mr. Hatzelow, who had a violent quarrel with his wife in the evening, was awake and dressed when the fire started, and is suspected of the crime.

Killed By His Daughter's Lover.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 25.—Sunday evening as Miss Alice Baker and George Long were walking together, they were met by the father and brother of Miss Baker, who began upbraiding Long for going with the girl. This led to a fight, in which young Baker shot Long, inflicting a painful wound. Long snatched the smoking pistol and shot the elder Baker through the head, killing him instantly. Long and Miss Baker have been keeping company some time against the bitter opposition of Miss Baker's family. Long is a tough character and the girl claims to have been afraid of him. He is under arrest.

Found With Her Throat Cut.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 25.—Late Friday afternoon, while George D. Eaves was picking brush-wood, just outside of the city, he discovered the naked foot of a negro protruding from a pile of brush. Removing the wood he found the body of a young woman entirely nude, and across the throat from ear to ear was a gaping knife wound, and the head and limbs were cruelly bruised in several places. The woman, who was Ida Carnegie, quarreled with her husband last Thursday night, and nothing was seen of her after she had left her work the next night. The police are hunting for the husband.

Oil Tanks Burned at Findlay.

FINDLAY, O., June 25.—Lightning Sunday morning made sad havoc of two six-thousand-barrel oil tanks, filled with oil belonging to the Lake Erie Oil company, situated about three miles down the river from this city. The lightning struck the derrick, destroying the rig and fixtures, setting the well on fire and communicating to the tanks, which burned all day. The total loss is estimated at about $10,000. About the same hour a well belonging to the Wild Turkey Oil company was also struck by lightning, destroying the tank, derrick and surroundings, causing a loss of $25,000.

Permanently Settled.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., June 25.—Melville A. Miles, a young white man, and a negro, Wash Harrison, fought with pistols yesterday, near Richmond, Ala., and both were killed. They were living on the plantation of A. T. Jones, Miles as an overseer and the negro as a laborer. The negro had been ordered to leave the place, but refused to do so, and when Miles went with Jones to the negro's house, he fired on them. Miles shot twice and died in fifteen minutes. Harrison was also shot fatally and died in a few hours.

Poison in Coffee.

LOCKPORT, N. Y., June 25.—Mrs. Helen Althouse, the well known mysterious Attica sleeper, has had a narrow escape from death, from poisoning. Two strange men visited Mrs. Althouse last Thursday, and it is thought they induced her to drink coffee, which had previously been poisoned. After they had left Mrs. Althouse had every symptom of having been poisoned. The men were known to the family, but Mrs. Althouse seemed to have an idea who they are, although she declines to talk.

Morton for Vice President.

The Chicago convention finished its work last night by nominating Levi P. Morton, of New York, for Vice President. The ballot was as follows:

Morton.....	591
Phelps.....	119
Bradley.....	103
Brace.....	11
Thomas.....	1

THE Democrats of Frankfort have organized a league with seventy-one members.

WHAT has become of the free turnpike movement? Talk on the question seems to have died out.

THE "McCreary Club" is the name by which the Democrats of Shelby County will be known in the present campaign.

REV. J. W. HOME, of Indiana, was at Lexington last Saturday and was interviewed by the Transcript on the political outlook in the "Hoosier State." He said: "I have been all over Indiana, I know every county in the State and I tell you that that if Ben Harrison is nominated it will result in defeat in his own State, I know him personally. He is an aristocrat and the masses will not vote for him."

The question is, what are the Republicans going to do about it?

THE family of James W. Tate, the defaulter, have received a letter from him, in which he states that he is safely out of harm's way, and that his health is good. It is to be regretted that this man, who so basely violated the trust reposed in him by the people of Kentucky, can not be got at. The officials at Frankfort should never let up until he is brought back and placed where he will not have an opportunity of harming any one else.

AN ex-Congressman of Iowa is confident Cleveland will carry that State next fall. He says:

"In my judgment there will be a grand victory for the Democratic ticket this fall—a victory that can be compared only to a cyclone, such as that of Pierce in 1852. I find that everybody with the exception of Republican politicians and place-hunters admit that we never had a better administration than that of President Cleveland, in the matter of honesty, economy and a painstaking effort to find the right and when found, to stay there. The President is a good stayer."

With the haughty aristocrat Harrison for their candidate the Republicans will stand a poor show among the granger element of the West.

THE Democrats of Pendleton County are taking the lead in preparing for the coming elections. They have a splendid organization at Falmouth in the Carlisle Club, and are now at work in the various precincts of the county. They organized a Cleveland and Thurman club last Saturday at McKineysburg with about eighty members and at Butler later in the day a similar organization was effected with about sixty members. Good work may be looked for in Pendleton. Let other counties follow suit. A thorough organization of the right sort is all that is needed to get out the vote, and that means an old-time majority.

A LITTLE singular fact in this connection is that one of Tate's bondsmen is the foreman of the grand jury that is considering the propriety of bringing in an indictment against Tate.

The above is a Frankfort special to the Louisville Commercial. If the Circuit Judge was aware of the fact stated when his court convened he certainly neglected his duty in not discharging the jury at once and empaneling a new one. What excuse can he give for allowing one of Tate's bondsmen to sit as foreman of the grand jury who is considering the charges against the defaulter? We don't like to see any "shenanigan" about this business. The people of Kentucky are not in a humor to submit to any trifling in the prosecution of Mr. Tate.

PAROLING PRISONERS.

Rules and Regulations Under the Dickerson Prison Bill by Which Convicts Are to Be Given Freedom.

A special from Frankfort says: "The Sinking Fund Commissioners are at work on an organization under the Dickerson Prison Parole bill. They will adopt rules and regulations, prescribing the number of prisoners to be paroled each year, which, according to the act, must not exceed 5 per cent. of the total number; also designate how and when those paroled shall report their whereabouts and their occupation and behavior. At first it was thought it could not be made operative until after the expiration of the contract with the Mason & Ford Company, the lessees, but now it is contended that as the Governor, notwithstanding the contract, has the right to pardon the prisoners, so can his prerogative extend as well to the power to parole. As the number to be released on parole will not be greater than about sixty-five each year, it is probable there will be a scramble for first on the list of nominations. The benefits of the act apply to all convicts except those sentenced for rape or incest, or serving a second term. When sentenced for murder, the convict must first serve ten years of his term, and for burglary, highway robbery, or arson, he shall first serve the minimum term provided by law for his crime. The paroled prisoner may live where he chooses, inside or outside of the State, but he is required while in the State to report at least every six months through the County Judge to the Commissioners.

"There are a great many applications before the Commissioners now, which they will act upon in the order filed in the Governor's office."

Stock, Field and Farm.

A special says the weather during the past week in the grain regions of the Northwest has been generally favorable to growing crops, and conditions have improved in the Upper Mississippi and Missouri Valleys and in Michigan, although heavy local rains in Missouri are reported to have injured wheat and delayed harvesting. An excess of rain is reported from Arkansas, Louisiana and Mississippi, which has been unfavorable to the cotton crop. In the east portion of the cotton region, including Alabama, North Carolina and South Carolina, the weather has been favorable for all crops. In Ohio, Indiana and Connecticut more rain is needed, while generally throughout the Middle, Atlantic and New England States the weather of the past week has improved the crop conditions. Harvesting is in progress in Tennessee, where the weather conditions have been favorable for wheat and corn, but unfavorable for grass.

The wheat crop in this section is an average one. Much of it has been harvested.

Miss Suddie Wallingford is on the sick list. John B. Farrow has improved his premises. Professor Gabriel lectured at the school house Saturday night.

Miss Anna Morehead visited her sister, Mrs. Amanda France, at Carlisle last week.

Harry Wallingford has returned home from Kansas where he has bought a farm.

Alfred Farrow, an attorney-at-law of Kansas City, was in this locality last week. John E. Brayfield and Mrs. Ann Strode, of Blue Licks, were in this vicinity on a visit to relatives.

A great many tobacco plants that were set out during the month of May will not be apt to get a very good stand this year.

The old croakers that wanted Baldwin Seybold fined $20 to $40 for going to his sister's house and asking for his supper and his coat did not have their way. Twelve men said he was innocent of any abusive language.

Mrs. Lottie Strode, of Fleming Creek neighborhood, one day last week seeing a hawk after her chickens picked up a shot gun and ran out in the yard with the muzzle pointed downward. The weapon was discharged and accidentally wounded her in one of her feet.

MAYS LICK.

Last week the mercury ranged from 85 to 100.

Rev. B. F. Clay, State Evangelist, will preach in the Christian Church Sunday, July 1st.

Rev. W. Gibson, who has been absent for the past month, is expected to be with us next Sunday.

We spent last week in the counties of Nicholas, Bourbon and Clark, and as far as we were able to see and learn the outlook for a wheat and corn crop is good. The oats and grass crops will produce a growth of new meadow of some fifty acres of timothy on the farm of Mrs. Mary A. Collins, Cane Ridge, Bourbon County. It was very heavy and clear of white blossoms. We noticed a large acreage of tobacco set and looking well.

A man with a good two-horse team could do a good business here hauling from Maysville and Helena depot.

Monday and to-day about finishes up the tobacco setting in this vicinity.

J. A. Jackson is selling a preparation that will prevent the hair from falling off and in many cases will produce a growth of new hair. No mistake. Call and get a bottle.

Thomas P. Hopper seems to be some better in the last few days.

Thomas Early, dry goods merchant of Millwood, was circulating among his old friends here Monday.

We had a good rain Monday. Fair tobacco season the first we have had—$2.50 a day and roast beef, for setting plants.

Thomas B. Arthur, of Shannon, is dangerously ill. He has kidney troubles.

MAYSVILLE FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Suggestions Offered by a Prominent Business Man Who Has Investigated the Subject.

The discussion in council regarding our fire protection brings before us an important question. Mr. Wood was right in saying the members of the fire department do not respond to the alarms. They place too much reliance on our fine water works, and taking it for granted that as only a few men are needed to manage the hose each member thinks there will be enough men to manage without him, so he either is careless about going to the fire or attends as a spectator. A few boys and one or two faithful men drag the hose carriages slowly through the streets on response to an alarm and the consequence is, the loss in time in getting to the fire causes a loss several times greater than it really ought to be. The saying that you so often hear on the streets "that Maysville with her fine water works cannot have a large fire" gives such a feeling of security as to make the danger the greater.

Our water works costs us $3,000 a year and yet our protection is not complete by any means. A very small outlay would give us as good and efficient a fire department as there is in the United States. The plan advocated by several business men some time since and investigated by the writer as to cost, &c., is the following: Put up a fire alarm telegraph system with a large gong on a hall centrally located, say the Neptune Hall, with boxes located in different parts of the city from which to signal an alarm. Let each box be numbered and when an alarm is sent from any box the number of that box will be sounded on the gong, showing in an instant the exact location of the fire. This system can be put up for a cost of from $1,200 to $1,500, including a gong of sufficient size to be heard to the farthest end of Chester. Have a horse and hose carriage, with two men on watch continually, so that at the first tap of the bell they can get ready to start, and a fire in any part of the city can be reached in from two to five minutes. By having a fire extinguisher attached to the hose carriage a small blaze can be put out without the use of water. To make the fire department complete the City Council can arrange with from three to five men in each ward to report promptly to any station in their ward from which an alarm is sounded. By the time they reach the fire the hose carriage is there and under the direction of one of the regular firemen as chief there is a good force collected as quickly as the bell can be wrung under the present system. In case of a large fire the firemen from all wards can be called out by a second alarm. An extra hose carriage can be left in each end of the city so as to be convenient in case more hose is needed. The extra firemen can be employed by paying them a small compensation each month, with a fine imposed if the call is not responded to. By this means a fire can be reached in its infancy and put out with less damage.

A report from Montreal, Canada, after trying the fire alarm telegraph system reads as follows: "As the simplest illustration of its great value, we have the fires and loss for a fair average year before and since its introduction: Before, 85 fires, $140,088 loss. After, 99 fires, $35,428—making 14 more fires with one-fourth the loss."

Rev. P. S. Henson, D. D. This celebrated preacher and lecturer, who will deliver a lecture here on Thursday evening, is a native of Fluvanna County, Virginia. He was a poor boy, and by his own efforts has risen to a position second to none in his denomination. He preaches to perhaps the largest congregation in the city of Chicago, is a warm friend and staunch champion of the working men, and his name never fails to attract crowds wherever he is known.

His lecture on "Fools" has been delivered in nearly all of our large cities and has received everywhere hearty commendation, abounding as it does in wit, humor and pathos.

Go hear it, and come away to thank God that you are not a "Fool."

The gentlemen who have company for the "Leap Year" party, which will be given to-morrow night, will please assemble at the St. Charles Hotel where the ladies will call for them at eight o'clock sharp.

Those persons interested in the tennis club will meet at the home of Miss Margaret Finch this afternoon at four o'clock, to elect officers and make other arrangements necessary to the success of the club.

GEORGE CAYWOOD, Assistant Superintendent of the Maysville and Big Sandy telegraph line, is out after an illness of over two weeks with malarial fever. He will not be able to resume his duties, however, for some days yet.

The Leedom Club lately organized in Aberdeen now has one hundred and fifty members. The special features of their uniforms are white plug hats, linen dusters light canes and a Cleveland and Thurman badge, on which the name of the club is printed.

REV. DR. W. C. YOUNG, of Louisville, has decided to accept the Presidency of Centre College, Danville. Much of his time will be spent in an effort to raise $100,000 to increase the endowment of the college. Of this sum Danville has contributed $12,000.

THE Sunday school pupils of the M. E. Church, South, will meet at the church at 8 o'clock Thursday morning and go in wagons to the picnic, and not by street cars as announced on last Sunday. Well-filled baskets from the friends of the school will be in order.

THE lecture to be given at the court house Thursday night is for the benefit of the new Baptist Church, and Maysville people will thus have an opportunity of aiding a worthy cause and hearing one of the finest platform speakers in America at the same time.

EXCURSION to Cincinnati next Sunday on St. Lawrence to see champion game of ball between Brooklyn and Cincinnati. Boat leaves at 7 a. m. sharp. Round trip $1. No intoxicating liquors allowed on board. Zoological gardens, exposition buildings and other attractions.

WILLIAM AMES and Miss Rankins, of Corinth, Ky., and H. Weber and Mamie Broch, of Lexington, Ky., two runaway couples, arrived on the morning train yesterday and were married at Aberdeen by Squire Beasley. They were guests of the Hill House while in the city.

THAT Millersburg correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer, says: "J. H. Fryer, a farmer living three miles from this place, seven weeks ago, while down drinking out of a spring, swallowed something sick. He supposed it to be a tadpole, from the peculiar sensation in his stomach. Three weeks ago he was taken very ill, and claimed that there was something alive in his stomach. Last week, during a severe coughing spell, he vomited up a small, green, live frog."

It is not a compliment to Maysville people to say of them, as is often said, that nothing short of a minstrel performance or a circus will interest them. Many of the smaller towns in Central Kentucky have their lecture bureaus, and the people are given an opportunity every season of hearing the eminent men of our country. Maysville has no such organization and heretofore lecturers have not succeeded here. The literary revival during the past winter ought to bring about a new order of things, however, and our people ought to show their interest in a higher order of entertainment than the circus, or variety performance. We should be glad to see a lecture bureau organized here during the coming season, and a lecture course liberally patronized.

UNKNOWN WHITE PASHA.

THE MAHDI GREATLY CONCERNED OVER THE EVENT.

Some Think That Stanley Has Joined Emin Bey, and That They Are Marching Westward — Germany's New Emperor Speaks to the Reichstag.

LONDON, June 25.—The dispatch of a few days since, concerning the appearance of white pasha in the Bah-el-Ghazil provinces with a force of men sufficiently large to give the Mahdi concern, is regarded here with great interest, and much speculation is indulged in as to his personality. Some, who believe that Gordon escaped from Kartoum, suspect that he is the man, or else Edmund O'Donovan, the famous war correspondent of the Daily News, or some other member of the unfortunate Pasha Hicks force.

The greater number, however, think that Stanley has joined Emin Bey, and that together they are forcing their way westward. The last is by no means a plausible guess, since the Bah-el-Ghazil provinces lie not less than 1,000 miles northwest of Wadai, where Emin Bey is located. It is a fair assumption that all the unfortunate Europeans whom England sent down the Nile in the name of Egypt against the Soudanese have not perished, and that some one of these has gained a following among the superstitious natives, and set up, perhaps, for a divine interpreter, bent upon both escape and conquest.

Word received from Herbert Ward, who is on his way home from Yambouy, where Stanley left Maj. Bartlett with a force, says that the latter has suffered greatly for want of provisions.

William Peacefully Disposed.

BERLIN, June 25.—To-day Emperor William will speak to the German Reichstag. The address will, it is believed, be one of the most reassuring and peaceful messages by a Hohenzollern prince. It is firmly believed in official circles that a complete understanding has been arrived at with Russia, and it is probable that in the course of the present summer a meeting will take place between the German emperor, the czar and the emperor of Austria.

Such a belief, however, has no basis whatever, since it implies that Russia has given up her designs on the Balkan states, while maintaining a vast army on her frontiers to prosecute them in due time, and has suddenly changed a persistent policy that is centuries old. The present understanding between the powers is the Berlin treaty, and there can be no mutual understanding outside of that between Germany and Russia that will not militate against Austria, and hasten rather than retard war. The unsettled condition of the eastern question will remain in statu quo until war settles it.

Foreigners Uneasy in Corea.

LONDON, June 25.—A dispatch from Shanghai says a feeling of uneasiness prevails among foreigners in Corea on account of the threatening attitude of the natives. All the foreign consulates are guarded by soldiers. An American man-of-war has been sent to give assistance. The Coreans are being badgered by both Russia and England in their endeavors to dominate in influence there as a foothold in pushing their conflicting eastern policy regarding China, it being England's policy to support China as against Russian aggression. Meanwhile China and Japan struggle for ascendancy in Corea, and the pro-Chinese party controls the government of King-Ni-Hong.

Mr. Fuller's Case.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The judiciary committee will take decisive action, it is believed, to-day regarding Melville W. Fuller's nomination to the chief justiceship of the supreme bench. If a majority of the committee think Mr. Fuller not qualified for the position it is said they will agree to make an adverse report at once, so that the senate can take up and discuss the nomination.

If a report is not speedily made, an effort will be instituted, it is stated by the Democrats, to have the committee discharged from the further consideration of the nomination. It is declared that the judiciary have been temporizing in the matter in order to postpone any action in the case until after the presidential election; but prominent Republicans who are familiar with the usual course taken in such matters affirm that there is no foundation for this belief.
